

Where do you see your ministry and/or the Grand Central Church in three years (2012)? If your ministry realized all its goals – if the Grand Central Church of Christ became what you believe God wants it to be – what would that look like? By 2012, what would have changed? How would your ministry and/or the life of the church have been transformed? This is not about the beauty of your prose but a chance for you to share your vision for God's Kingdom.

Planning for 2010

Your ministry can make an important contribution to the kingdom of God in 2010. Those members whom you involve in its work are allowed the opportunity to serve and mature as followers of our Lord Jesus Christ. The recipients of the ministry service are encouraged to draw more closely to our Lord and, working together with God, lives and destinies are changed for eternity.

Many of you have already begun to look to 2010. Together we need to agree to pray for God to guide our vision and goals so that they will match his desire for the world to be won. Our mission statement is really just a re-statement of Matthew 28:19-20, Jesus' mission (Great Commission) to his disciples.

Helping People Find Jesus Helping Believers Become Disciples

As you put together your goals for 2010 please take the time to consider how they contribute to God's mission. We are the 21st century disciples of Jesus Christ. In the year 2010 what will your ministry do to help fulfill this mission?

On the two pages inside please list your goals for 2010. As much as you are able, please list as many of the people you plan, with God's help, to enlist in these efforts. Be as specific as possible in your goals. There should be some way for your goals to be measured.

All ministries need to be as prudent as possible in the planning of their budgets for 2010. While our giving per person has not significantly decreased, Grand Central has seen 100-150 members who have moved away in the past 24 months (and a far smaller number who have transferred to other congregations). Initially, we are anticipating a smaller budget but are trusting God to help us grow in this grace also.

On the last page you are asked to share your vision of what your ministry, and the Grand Central Church, can do by 2012.
